

HANDICAP / COURSE RATING REPORT
OCTOBER 15, 2018

This past golf season the new Campbell River Golf and Country Club was rated, plus Pheasant Glen and Quadra were re-rated

My usual rant about the handicap system is that it this is the tool that levels the playing field, enabling golfers of all abilities to compete against one another. The handicap system only works to the full extent IF every score of every game played is entered into the system. So, enter every score and the system will work!

Last year, I offered and the zone executive authorized that I would check score entries for the zone events. It was a lot of work and almost all scores were entered in a timely fashion. A few reminders were sent out by e-mail and the missing scores were entered. The score entries for the 4-ball were not checked, as it would be very confusing with holes not putted out. However, these scores still need to be entered using ESC to enter scores. All in all the compliance was very high and we thank the golfers. A job well done.

Respectfully submitted.

Colleen Pierlot
Assistant to Handicap Chair / Course Rater